Target Group:

Change Management can be broadly defined as a discipline and set of frameworks and capabilities for driving business results by changing organisations, including behaviours, culture, processes and activities. Communications, collaboration, management and leadership are essential elements in driving successful change.

The course is designed for MBA students desiring to learn more about the different aspects of change dynamics and practices in organizations but also who desire to enhance their own personal change capabilities. The knowledge acquired in the course, including the discussions of best practices and cases, will allow the student to better understand and act upon different situations where businesses need to change. The first part of the course covers the different models and theories associated with management of change as well as specific change situations often facing businesses such as restructuring, mergers and acquisitions, etc. The second part examines how to respond to the challenge of faster and more complex changes facing businesses (such as digital transformation) and how to create increased change capacity and greater agility in order to confront such changes.

Learning objectives:

1. Provide students with an overview and understanding of theories, concepts and frameworks underlying the practice of management of change and transformations.
2. Provide student with the skills, tools and best practices needed to analyze different change situations.
3. Applying the above through case studies and reviews of actual change situations so that students gain practical experience in how to management change effectively.

Grading:

Class participation: 20%

Students are expected to prepare for each class and to participate in class discussions. This course is very interactive and students are asked to position their own change-related experiences and relevant questions.

Quiz: 20%

A 30 minutes long exam at the start of Part 2 to test knowledge of change models and concepts.

Team project: 30%

Prepare an executive presentation/proposal on the third day based on the Daimler-Chrysler case study. Marking will take account of the content of the presentation (evidence-driven, quality of argument) as well as how well it is conveyed (visual support, quality of presentation delivery). Marking will also reflect how well the team responds to questions or challenges raised by other teams.

Reflection Paper: 30%

Students are expected to submit a reflection piece (maximum 500 words) a maximum of a week after the final lecture. All students are invited and encouraged to reflect on the following 2 questions:

- a. What are the 3-5 most important things I learned in this course?
- b. What are 3 ways in which I plan to address future change situations differently as a result?

Marking will take account of how far the reflection paper evidences clarity and criticality of thinking, self-awareness, and reference to past experience as well as knowledge acquired during the module.
