SWS	4
Frequency	Every semester
Associated courses	ECO1041 Introduction and Microeconomics
Prerequisites	German language: None English language: proof of competence level B2 in English
Assessment Methods and duration	PLK - 60 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Successful passing of the examination performance
Significance for the Final Grade	The credit-weighted average grade of the preliminary examination (examination results of the first study section, §17 para. 3 StuPO) is included in the final grade with a weight of 30 credits.
Planned group size	max. 80 participants
Language	German or English optional
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Beck, Hanno
Lecturers	Professors and lecturers of the department "Economics"
Subject area / course of study	Economics
Applicability in other modules/courses of study	All degree programs
Pedagogical Approach	Lecture + Exercise
Objectives	Changes in the economy as a whole and economic policy decisions have a considerable influence on the success of individual businesses. The economic modules are designed to give students the ability to independently assess the macroeconomic framework for individual economic activity. Such knowledge is indispensable for decision-making competence in many business functions, especially for investment decisions, from which in turn other business decisions are derived. The module teaches principles of regulatory and competition policy and familiarizes students with microeconomic approaches to the analysis of economic problems in closed economies. In detail, the following objectives are pursued: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will be able to identify the essential elements that determine the success of an economic system and the competitiveness of a location. • They are able to assess decisions on competition policy and competition law with a view to the consequences for the individual and the economy as a whole.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You will learn to apply microeconomic analysis techniques to understand the functioning of markets under different market forms and under government intervention. The module primarily serves to broaden and deepen knowledge.
Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Subject, basic concepts and methods of economics Economic systems (ideal types and real types), ordoliberalism and social market economy Demand and supply on goods markets, elasticities, production and cost functions Price formation: perfect and imperfect competition, monopolistic price formation, oligopoly markets government intervention in market pricing: Maximum prices, minimum prices, taxes, internalization of external effects. Competition concepts and competition policy
Relation to other modules	Methodological basics are created, which are expanded in the VWL module "International Economic Relations" in the context of foreign trade and applied independently in the "Economic Policy Seminar". The derivation of supply on goods markets is linked to general business administration (production and cost theory). The derivation of demand for goods, pricing in different market forms and competition policy have numerous points of contact with marketing issues. Competition theory and policy complement business courses on pricing and legal courses on competition and antitrust law.

Objectives	Changes in the economy as a whole and economic policy decisions have a considerable influence on the success of individual businesses. The economic modules are designed to give students the ability to independently assess the macroeconomic framework for individual economic activity. Such knowledge is indispensable for decision-making competence in many business functions, especially for investment decisions, from which in turn other business decisions are derived. The module familiarizes students with macroeconomic approaches to the analysis of economic problems in closed economies. Specifically, the following objectives are pursued: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will be able to identify the essential elements that determine the success of an economic system and the competitiveness of a location. • Macroeconomic analysis gives students access to explanations of the most important macroeconomic factors affecting business activity: unemployment, inflation, economic growth, structural change and cyclical fluctuations. They are able to explain these phenom-

	ena and evaluate economic policy options for correcting macroeconomic imbalances and their consequences for business decisions. The module thus primarily serves to broaden and -deepen knowledge.
Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Subject, basic concepts and methods of economics • classical macroeconomic approach (full employment, flexible prices) • Keynesian macroeconomic approach (underemployment, price rigidities) • Monetary theory and monetary policy, interest rate and inflation explanation • Causes and possibilities of government influence on economic fluctuations • Economic growth: determinants and limits • Structural change: causes and effects
Relation to other modules	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Methodological basics are created, which are expanded in the VWL module "International Economic Relations" in the context of foreign trade and applied independently in the "Economic Policy Seminar". • Macroeconomic developments and their determinants are relevant at many points in general business administration, e.g. when it comes to interest rate and price developments or location decisions. Selected partial aspects are of particular importance for individual courses of study, e.g. economic fluctuations for procurement and sales decisions.

Mathematical Foundations for Business
Module ID	AQM1040
Semester	1
Credits	5
SWS	4
Frequency	Every semester
Associated courses	AQM1041e Fundamentals of Analysis and Linear Algebra (3 credits) AQM1042e Fundamentals of Financial Mathematics (2 credits).
Prerequisites	German language: None English language: proof of competence level B2 in English
Assessment Methods and duration	Fundamentals of Analysis and Linear Algebra: PLK - 90 minutes Fundamentals of Financial Mathematics: PLK - 60 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Analysis and Linear Algebra: successful passing of the examination performance Fundamentals of financial mathematics: successful passing of the examination performance
Significance for the Final Grade	The credit-weighted average grade of the preliminary examination (examination results of the first study section, §17 para. 3 StuPO) is included in the final grade with a weight of 30 credits.
Planned group size	max. 200 students
Language	German and English
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Kuhlenkasper, Torben
Lecturers	Professors of the Department of Quantitative Methods and Lecturers
Subject area / course of study	Quantitative methods
Applicability in other modules / courses of study	All business administration courses, "Financial Mathematics" is also used in the "Business Law" course.
Pedagogical Approach	Lecture with exercises
Objectives	The students... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • can translate simple economic facts into mathematical models • are able to analyze economic functions by applying differential and integral calculus • Understand basic concepts of optimization methods by applying the method of Lagrange multipliers. • master the handling of linear systems of equations and matrices • Upon successful completion of the course, are equipped with mathematical knowledge that will allow them to access advanced courses in Statistics and Quantitative Planning.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • know classic financial products • master classical financial mathematical procedures and methods of interest calculation, annuity calculation, investment calculation and redemption calculation • can critically assess various offers from financial providers for investing money and taking out loans • know how modern financial instruments (especially interest rate derivatives) work and how they are used, as well as their opportunities and risks The module thus primarily serves to broaden and -deepen knowledge.
Content	The module consists of the two courses "Fundamentals of Analysis and Linear Algebra" and "Fundamentals of Financial Mathematics". Within the first course, the concepts of analysis of functions with one variable (limit / continuity, homogeneity / elasticity, differential and integral calculus) are first worked out. Furthermore, the basic concepts of matrix-vector calculus (incl. determinant, inverse) and the solution of linear systems of equations are the subject of this course. Building on these two areas, the basic methods of analysis of functions with several variables (partial homogeneity, partial elasticity, partial / total differential, differential calculus, multiple integrals, optimization under constraints) are discussed. The course "Fundamentals of Financial Mathematics" provides the necessary mathematical tools for the financial mathematics part of the course (exponential / logarithm functions, sequences, series). Basics of interest calculation serve as a basis for the following chapters. Investment theory, annuity calculation, repayment calculation and a chapter on prices and yields of securities introduce students to entrepreneurial decision-making situations. An introduction to interest rate financial derivatives provides an insight into modern corporate financial planning.
Relation to other modules	Methodological foundations are laid for all other subjects from the areas of Applied Quantitative Methods, General Economics and Business Administration. Furthermore, this subject is the basis for the specialization subjects Financing and Accounting.

Objectives	The students... <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Understand the importance of simple statistical concepts in an economic setting; 2. Learn the statistical language R; 3. can analyze economic data sets using descriptive statistical functions in R; 4. can calculate and interpret decision-relevant information from a data set using graphs and descriptive univariate ratios; 5. Have the ability to correctly apply and interpret bivariate techniques of correlation and regression. 6. can apply simple techniques of time series analysis, such as index and forecast calculation, and interpret their results.

Content	The course "Fundamentals of Descriptive Statistics" addresses the basic methods of univariate and bivariate procedures, which are applied to business examples with the help of own or computer-based calculations. Content ranges from survey and scaling, to presentation and univariate analysis of quantitative data, to analysis of bivariate relationships. An introduction to probability theory is given. In the course "Mathematical Optimization", the fundamentals of a model-theoretical approach as the basis of quantitative corporate planning as well as the most important methods of linear programming calculation are taught. This includes in particular the methods of linear programming and quantitative project planning. Emphasis is placed on the application of solution methods to business problems and on their economic interpretation. For this purpose, a number of didactically useful examples from the planning practice of the respective business administration functional areas are discussed. In addition, special emphasis is placed on the use of computer-aided solutions.

Frequency	Each semester
Associated courses	MCO2052 Fundamentals of Marketing
Prerequisites	None
Kind of examination -Duration of Examination	PLK – 60 minutes
Prerequisite for granting of credits	Successful passing of the examination
Importance of grade for end grade	The module is included in the credit-weighted average grade of the preliminary examination (examination achievements of the first study section, §17 Abs. 3 Stu-PO), which in turn counts to the final bachelor grade with a weight of 30 credits.
Planned group size	max. 90 students
Language	English
Duration of module	1 Semester
Responsible person	Walter, Nadine
Lecturer	Walter, Nadine
Study program	Bachelor International Marketing
Pedagogical Approach	Lecture with exercises
Applicability in other programs	This module can also be taken by the study programs „Betriebswirtschaft / Werbung“ and „Betriebswirtschaft / Marktforschung und Konsumentenpsychologie“ (there: MAR1100).
Objectives	The course will provide the students with a comprehensive understanding of the concepts and principles of Marketing and its applications.
Content	Market environment and marketing strategy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Marketing concept • Market environment • Marketing strategies • Consumer buying behaviour • Market segmentation, targeting and positioning Marketing mix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Product • Brand • Price • Promotion

MMM2170 - Fundamentals of Marketing Communication and Media

Fundamentals of marketing communication and media
Module ID	MMM2170
Semester	2
Credits	5
SWS	4
Frequency	once a year in the summer semester
Associated courses	MMM2071: Fundamentals of Media and Introduction to Media Economics (2 SWS) MMM2072: Fundamentals of Marketing Communication (2 SWS)
Prerequisites	-
Assessment Methods and duration	PVL (Digital Image Editing / Production of Audiovisual Media Offerings) + PLK - 90 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Successful completion of the PVL and passing of the exam
Significance for the Final Grade	The credit-weighted average grade of the preliminary examination (examination results of the first study section, §17 para. 3 StuPO) is included in the final grade with a weight of 30 credits.
Planned group size	max. 50 students
Language	German
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Prof. Dr. Lindstädt-Dreusicke
Lecturer(s)	Prof. Dr. Lindstädt-Dreusicke; Prof. Dr. Yasmin Merz
Subject area / course of study	Media Management and Psychology of Advertising
Applicability in other programs	None
Pedagogical Approach	Lecture with exercises & discussions
Objectives	Fundamentals of Media and Introduction to Media Economics: The students can classify and categorize the media. They know about the importance of the media for society, politics and the economy. They can also assess the impact of the media on society as well as their effect on the individual recipient. Furthermore, the students know the economic characteristics of media markets as well as the relevant theories of modern media markets. Based on this knowledge, the functioning of media markets as well as the behavior of the different market participants can be explained. This knowledge is essential for the Media Management module in the 4th semester. Fundamentals of Marketing Communication:

	The students know about the meaning, conditions and contents of modern marketing communication. They are familiar with the objectives, functions and the various forms of advertising. Students can distinguish different instruments of marketing communication and apply them in a targeted manner. They master the strategic planning of communication and advertising and develop an understanding of integrated communication. The students acquire methodological skills and learn how to apply theoretical knowledge in practice. By doing so, they are able to classify and analyze business case studies. The module primarily serves to broaden and deepen knowledge. Both courses also contribute significantly to gaining communicative competences.
Content	Fundamentals of Media and Introduction to Media Economics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Classification of the media • Importance of the media for society, politics and the economy • Media system • Impact of the media • Media usage • Media economics and characteristics of media markets • Digital Image Editing / Production of Audiovisual Media Offerings (PVL) Fundamentals of Marketing communication: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Terms and contents of modern marketing communication • Significance and general conditions of modern marketing communication • Functions and objectives of advertising • Instruments of Marketing communication • Case studies: Discussion and solution

- can apply a bank's credit services to companies and their accounting systems.
- know the essential instruments of loan protection/ credit risk mitigation.
- can determine a company's debt service capacity and thus arrive at a sound credit assessment.
- are familiar with the interdependencies and the special conditions of the banking industry and can therefore take on their first professional and personal management tasks in this field relatively quickly.

Business Administration – Fokus: Mobility:

The students

- can apply the knowledge and skills acquired in the previous business administration modules.
- acquire knowledge about the special conditions, problems and technical terms of economic work in companies of the mobility industry (especially the automotive industry)
- are proficient in methods of R&D management, production control and logistics
- and therefore have the qualifications to take on their first professional and personal management tasks relatively quickly.

Retail Management (English only):

The students

- know the institutional characteristics of retail companies (retailers are service providers),
- are familiar with typical tasks and problems in retail companies, such as site selection, customer-oriented product range development, brand policy, employee management, especially in sales,
- obtain knowledge in the management of commercial enterprises and service enterprises

	International Management (English only): Students: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • know the possible forms of the internationalization process of a company and can work successfully in an international environment. • are able, based on the knowledge and skills acquired, to market products and services internationally and to handle the necessary financing processes accordingly. • are familiar with the special conditions and problems of internationally operating companies and can therefore take on their first professional and personal management tasks in this area relatively quickly. Investment Banking and Corporate Finance Upon completion of the module, students will possess: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An overview of the objectives and main subject areas of corporate finance, • An understanding of how investment banking can assist in achieving these objectives, • A solid understanding of how to identify and evaluate value enhancement potential of capital projects, • the ability to approximate the value of a company from an income, cost and market value perspective, • An in-depth understanding of long-term corporate finance with equity and debt instruments, • An understanding of how a company's capital structure decision affects its enterprise value. • In-depth knowledge of specialized areas of Corporate Finance Mergers & Acquisitions, Corporate Restructurings, LBOs and Corporate Governance. Interdisciplinary studies The students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • broaden their horizons by taking courses offered by the faculty of engineering • know technical/IT framework conditions of the industry The module thus primarily serves to deepen knowledge and to acquire instrumental as well as systemic competence.
Content	Special business administration: Business Administration Fokus: Manufacturing: The lecture focuses on the topics "Research and Development in Manufacturing" as a key function for future competitiveness, as well as production and logistics in the context of increasing globalization. Business Administration – Fokus Financial Industry/ Banking This lecture covers, among other things, the special features of credit institutions and their relations as well as the banking system in Germany. In addition, the various forms of investments (deposits, bonds, shares, etc.) and the credit busi-

	ness (forms of credit, loan expiration, security, credit-worthiness) are dealt with, with particular emphasis on typical banking risks, especially interest rate and credit risk. Business Administration – Fokus Mobility: In the first part, Prof. Dr. Haugrund deals with topics relating to the beginning of the value chain in the automotive industry. Starting with fundamental questions about future global mobility, areas of responsibility for strategic R&D in the automotive industry are mapped out. Subsequently, questions of R&D management are dealt with in detail. Selected focal points of the areas of production and logistics at suppliers as well as at OEMs round off the first part of the lecture. Building on this, Prof. Dr. Terporten focuses on the subsequent part of the value chain such as sales and aftersales organizations. The discussed topics go beyond the automotive industry and shed light on the challenges of mobility management as a whole. Retail Management (English only): This course covers the fundamentals of retail management. The functions, trade marketing, procurement and logistics, employee management and corporate management are deepened specifically for this industry. Practical examples and projects are used to work out specific tasks in retail companies. The course is aimed at students who wish to work professionally in a retail company. It is also aimed at students who will work in sales and marketing in companies whose customers are trading companies. Due to the proximity of retail services to services, you will also gain insight into the specific characteristics of service companies. International Management (English only): This lecture deals with the internationalization process of the company, international marketing and the legal framework of foreign activities. Investment Banking and Corporate Finance In the course Prof. Dr. Eichner deals with the following topics: Principles of Investment Banking, Principles of Corporate Finance, Capital Budgeting and Value Creation, Corporate Valuation, Capital Structure and Policy Structure, Mergers & Acquisitions and Capital Restructuring, LBOs and Corporate Governance. The Investment Banking and Corporate Finance course aims to provide students with analytical skills to make corporate finance decisions in practice from a corporate value enhancement perspective. Interdisciplinary studies The contents taught depend on the chosen course: For the module, different modules predefined on the part of the department "General Business Administration" or courses of other faculties can be provided.
Relation to other modules	Builds on the previous business administration modules.

Requirements for granting of credits	Successful completion of the examination
Significance for the Final Grade	The module is weighted with its credits in the Bachelor final grade.
Planned group size	max. 24 students
Language	German or English
Module Coordinator	Nothhelfer, Robert
Lecturers	Professors of the ABWL department and lecturers
Subject area / course of study	General business administration
Applicability in other modules / courses of study	All business degree programs, except BSBA/Digital Enterprise Management.
Pedagogical Approach	Seminar teaching
Objectives	Within a short period of time, students are able to familiarize themselves with specific, complex economic issues, penetrate and analyze them, and come up with their own solutions. They understand how to summarize and professionally present the solutions in writing, both scientifically and for practical implementation. The module thus primarily serves the acquisition of instrumental and systemic competence. In addition, communicative competence is taught to a significant extent.
Content	Selected scientific and practice-oriented topics from the field of business administration
Relation to other modules	Builds on the courses of the previous business administration modules.
Literature	Depending on the topics offered in each case
Workload	2 x 15 = 30 SWS attendance time and 120 h for preparation, independent literature study, exercises and accompanying work (esp. scientific paper and presentation).

Additional Remarks	The module takes place in small groups, there are limitations on the number of participants. Pre-registration is required. Immediately following pre-registration, attendance at a kick-off event is mandatory. There are two timed formats for the module: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The module is offered in the 7th semester as a block within the first 6 or 7 weeks of lectures. The topics are assigned at the end of the lecture period of the previous semester, so that the majority of the homework can be completed during the lecture-free period. • In addition, the seminar is also offered in the last half of the lecture period, in which case registration for this seminar takes place at the beginning of the lecture period. The target group of this seminar format are students who are not yet back at the university at the end of the pre-semester, e.g. due to a semester abroad or internship. The module can also be taken as part of an equivalent performance during a semester of study abroad. If the seminar performance is provided in English, the credits will be counted towards the existing credit requirement in English. SWS	4
Associated courses	ECO2011 International Economics
Prerequisites	None
Assessment Methods and duration	PLK - 60 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Successful passing of the examination performance
Significance for the Final Grade	The module is weighted with its credits in the Bachelor final grade.
Planned group size	max. 80 students
Language	German or English (optional)
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Strotmann, Harald
Lecturers	Professors of the Department of Economics
Subject area / course of study	Economics
Applicability in other modules / courses of study	all business administration courses
Teaching form	Lecture
Objectives	Changes in the economy as a whole and economic policy decisions have a considerable influence on the success of individual businesses. The economic modules are designed to give students the ability to independently assess the macroeconomic framework for individual economic activity. Such knowledge is indispensable for decision-making competence in many business functions, especially for investment decisions, from which in turn other business decisions are derived. The module extends the economic analysis of closed economies to include international contexts, which have become considerably more important for companies due to the globalization of value chains. In detail, the following objectives are pursued: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students grasp the close integration of the German economy into the global economy. • They know the advantages and disadvantages of different exchange rate systems and the determinants of exchange rate developments. • They understand the benefits of the international division of labor and the drivers of the globalization process.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • They are familiar with the most important international organizations (IMF, World Bank, WTO, etc.) and can assess their importance for international economic relations. The module thus primarily serves to broaden and -deepen knowledge -as well as to acquire systemic competence.
Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Balance of Payments Analysis • Currency theory and policy • international trade in goods and services • international capital flows • Effects of globalization on industrialized and developing countries • international regulatory framework (global governance)
Relation to other modules	The economic analysis of real and monetary aspects of international economic relations is relevant for all business administration courses, as globalization now touches all industries, company sizes and operational functions.
Literature	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Appleyard, Dennis R./Field, Alfred J./Cobb, Steven L., International Economics • Feenstra, Robert C./Taylor, Alan M., International Economics. • Krugman, Paul/Obstfeld, Maurice, International Economics • Mankiw, Nicholas G./Taylor, Mark P., Basic Economics. • Wienert, Helmut, Grundzüge der Volkswirtschaftslehre, Vol. 2: Makroökonomie
Workload	The lecture requires 4 x 15 SWS = 60 SWS attendance time. In addition, approx. 90 h are required for independent literature study, exercises, e-learning and exam preparation.
Additional Remarks	Successful completion of the module is a prerequisite for the modules THE4999 of the seventh semester (except for the degree programs "Business Administration / International Business" and "Business Administration / International Marketing"). The module is also offered in English as part of the International Study Program. Credits	5
SWS	4
Frequency	Every semester
Associated courses	AQM2101 Fundamentals of Inferential Statistics (3 credits). AQM2041 Operations Research (2 credits)
Prerequisites	None
Assessment Methods and duration	Fundamentals of inductive statistics: PLK - 60 minutes Operations Research: PLK - 60 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Fundamentals of inductive statistics: Successful passing of the examination performance Operations Research: successful passing of the examination performance
Significance for the Final Grade	The module is weighted with its credits in the Bachelor final grade.
Planned group size	Fundamentals of inductive statistics: max. 200 students. Operations Research: max. 100 students
Language	German
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Kuhlenkasper, Torben
Lecturers	Professors of the Department of Quantitative Methods
Subject area	Quantitative methods
Applicability in other modules / courses of study	All business administration courses, except BW/International Marketing
Pedagogical Approach	Lectures with exercises
Objectives	Basics of inductive statistics The students... <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. understand simple procedures of inductive statistics and can implement them with R; 2. master the basic rules of probability theory; 3. know the concepts of probability distributions (chi-square, binomial, hypergeometric, Poisson, Student, normal and F-distributions) and can apply them to economic issues; 4. can calculate and interpret confidence intervals for means, variance and proportions; 5. can apply basic nonparametric tests; 6. can perform and interpret parametric one-sample and two-sample T-tests; can perform and interpret the non-parametric chi-square test.

	Operations Research The students ... <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. can represent course-specific problems in quantitative models, 2. can solve course-specific problems independently using an algorithmic approach, 3. know computer-assisted solutions to problems specific to the course of study. The module thus primarily serves to broaden and -deepen knowledge -as well as to acquire instrumental competence.
Content	Students will gain insight into probability theory, parameter estimation procedures, the various types of frequency procedures, hypothesis testing, and interpretation of the major parametric and non-parametric testing procedures. In the Operations Research course, the methods of Mathematical Optimization are supplemented by applied methods of business planning, whereby the respective topic focus depends on the composition of the respective platoon. Topics include transportation and location planning, simulation and queuing theory, portfolio approaches to strategy evaluation, methods for investment and financing planning, game theory for understanding cooperative and non-cooperative (economic) behavior, etc. Emphasis is placed on demonstrating the solution methods on business problems and on their economic interpretation. For this purpose, a number of didactically useful examples from the planning practice of the respective functional areas of business administration will be discussed.

Prerequisites	Completed first stage of studies
Assessment Methods and duration	PLK/PLR/PLP/PLM; PLK - 60 minutes
Requirements for granting of credits	Successful completion of the examination
Significance for the Final Grade	The module is weighted with its credits in the Bachelor final grade.
Planned group size	max. 80 students
Language	German Sustainable Development: English
Module Duration	1 semester
Module Coordinator	Volkert, Jürgen
Lecturers	Professors of the Faculty of Economics and Law, especially from the Department of Economics
Subject area	Economics
Applicability in other modules / courses of study	All business administration courses
Pedagogical Approach	Lecture with exercises
Objectives	Expansion of the economic value perspective to include ethical and social perspectives as well as their consequences for the increasingly significant social responsibility of companies in - globalization. The aim is to impart fundamental knowledge and skills for dealing with different demands on companies as well as approaches for expanded value and conflict management. The module thus primarily serves to deepen knowledge and to acquire instrumental and systemic competence.

Content	The course is offered as an elective with the aforementioned specializations. All specializations deal with questions of corporate responsibility against the background of different value concepts and social demands in different cultures. The resulting restrictions and conflicts for entrepreneurial action as well as different alternatives for their goal-oriented consideration are discussed. In the specialization ESR3102/ESR3106/ESR3108, the importance of different values and norms for companies and society are discussed. The focus is on the goal-oriented handling of conflicts and dilemma situations with the help of ethics management systems, while at the same time clarifying the importance of order and individual ethics. Furthermore, special ethical challenges and strategies for the perception of corporate responsibility in globalization are discussed. In the specialization ESR3103/ESR3107, the consideration of ecological requirements in entrepreneurial activities is dealt with from an operational perspective. The focus is on sustainable development and the consequences this has for the economy. Conflicts of objectives are highlighted and solution strategies as well as concrete decision-making instruments are presented as examples. The specialization ESR3104/3105 provides insights into socioeconomic processes and challenges regarding the need for sustainable development. The focus of the course is on the economic and social aspects of sustainability and their interrelationships. Students will understand the opportunities, challenges and responsibilities that arise from good governance, from society, from firms and from the national economy. Another goal is the competent handling of globalization criticism. The specialization "ESR3101 addresses social and economic conflicts from a historical context. It shows long-term economic and social structures in society, which are important for understanding today's economic and socio-political conflicts and an economic and social policy based on them.
Literature	Depending on the elective chosen
Workload	Contact time 4 x 15 = 60 SWS and self-study to the extent of 90 h
Additional Remarks	The module may also be taken as part of an equivalent performance during a semester of study abroad. English language modules are also offered in English as part of the International Study Program. Seminar credits earned in English will count toward the existing credit requirement in English.
